

This is one of the worst communications threats ever conceived. In-home electronic products will be useless. Did anyone think about pacemakers or other health care products that are electronic and will be interfered with. The military, civil defense and many local police, fire and city services will be displaced. The economic impact will be great for the Power Companies but devastating for the rest of the economy.